SCOPE AND CONTENT NOTE

The records of the Commission on Intergovernmental Relations span the years 1953-1955 and consist of the working papers of the Commission itself and its various special study subcommittees.

The Commission records consist of telegrams, correspondence, verbatim transcripts of meetings, minutes of meetings, drafts, and reports on the over-all topic of intergovernmental relations, and the housekeeping duties of the Commission (personnel, records management, supplies, etc.). An important segment of these records are the "state impact" studies of federal grants-in-aid. These studies consist of answers to the Commission's questionnaire by the various state commissions and of reports submitted by professional consultants.

The records of the special study committees consist of telegrams, correspondence, verbatim transcripts of meetings, minutes of meetings, drafts, reports, and questionnaires answered by the particular state agencies and organizations concerned with a specific topic. These topics include: airport construction,, agriculture, education, taxation, grants-in-aid, health, highways, housing, Indian Affairs, law enforcement, local government, natural disasters, conservation and natural resources, unemployment compensation, vocational rehabilitation, and welfare.

Within each folder are cross reference sheets to other pertinent files in the collection. In addition, there is an alphabetical name index to the files in the last 10 boxes and two boxes of carbon memoranda written by the Chairman and the Director of Research.

NOTE ON THE COMMISSION
