OUTLAND, GEORGE E.  OH-459  61 pp. w/index  PRQ

(This transcript is bound in California Democrats in the Earl Warren Era)

California representative to Congress, 1943-1946; statewide manager for James Roosevelt’s gubernatorial campaign in California, 1950.

DESCRIPTION:  Family background and childhood; serving in Congress; 1948 Democratic National Convention; search for an alternate candidate instead of Harry Truman; James Roosevelt’s support for Dwight D. Eisenhower; Roosevelt as state Democratic Chairman; Outland’s appointment as Chairman of the Policy Committee of the California Democratic State Central Committee; setting up Roosevelt’s campaign for governor; support for Roosevelt in the Jewish community; support in Northern California for Pat Brown instead of Roosevelt; George Miller; cross-filing for office; welfare as a campaign issue; accusations that Roosevelt was a carpetbagger; Roosevelt as an orator; Earl Warren avoided direct attacks on Roosevelt; television as campaign tool in 1950; advice from a number of persons on how Roosevelt should run his campaign; various minor campaign issues; newspaper publicity; Roosevelt’s family connections; George Luckey; lack of interest in running any other political campaign.

NAME & SUBJECT INDEX.